

Sarid's Sources	Did Rabbi Hoffman Address it?	Not literal?	Misinterpreted?	Out of context?	Literal but it's not so bad.
It's worth knowing that a woman is unfit to be a judge, and is also unfit to give testimony.	No
She is unfit for any public position with authority. "Thou shalt appoint a king over thee" - a king and not a queen.	Yes				Yes. Europe had some of the same rules too!
A daughter, commanded the sages, must not be taught Torah, because "the mind of woman is not suited to be taught, but [only] to words of nonsense."	No man and a woman are drowning in a river, first they'll save the man, "who is obligated to perform more commandments	No wisdom is only in the spindle.	No words of Torah should be burned rather than being given to women	Yes	Yes	Yes. Since the Talmud addressed the question women must be wise	No.	Yes.
thanks God "that He didn't make me a gentile, that He didn't make me a woman,	No all her conversation is nothing but words of adultery	No causes evil to himself and will end up inheriting hell	No who looks even at a woman's little finger	Yes				Yes. This deobjectifies women.
to once or twice a month, as necessary, since a woman has no beauty except by sitting in the corner of her house	No
Every woman washes her husband's face and feet and pours him a cup and prepares his bed and stands and serves her husband. And any woman who refrains from doing any of these tasks that she is obligated to perform - is forced to do them.	No she is at her husband's disposal whenever he is overcome by a desire "to satisfy his urges with her	No divorce her without her consent	No
"a sack full of excrement	Yes		Yes		Yes. Merely describing how strong sexual attraction is.
A man must take care not to walk between two women or between two dogs or two pigs, and men should also not allow a woman or a dog or a pig to walk between them	No				